REPORT
CELEBRATION OF "CONSTITUTION DAY"

The Electoral Literacy Club of Government College of Education, Sector 20-D, Chandigarh celebrated National Constitution Day (Samvidhan Diwas) on November 26th, 2022 in the college auditorium to honour and remember the father of Constitution, Dr. Bhimrao Ramji Ambedkar, the architect of the Indian constitution and to instill sense of patriotism amongst the students. The day was commemorated with great zest and students presented and participated in various activities during the celebration. Several members of the faculty and students of B.Ed, M.Ed and PGDGC attended the same.

The celebration began with the reading of the Preamble of the Indian Constitution followed by the speech in which the speaker shared the history and importance of the Constitution with the audience. Beautiful poems were recited by students. A small video was also shown to students based on Constitution. Later on a Quiz was conducted to assess the learning of the students about the day. Students attempted and participated in the quiz very enthusiastically and promptly.

The most important part of the celebration was an interactive session by Dr Nisha Singh, Nodal Officer, Electoral Literacy Club where the audience shared and cleared their doubts about various aspects about the importance and History of Constitution day.

Towards the end of the session, Dr. Kusum shared her expertise on the subject. She emphasized the significance of the Constitution, the rights and duties of citizens, and talked about the educational provisions enshrined therein. The morning session ended with the National Anthem.

As an important part of the celebration, teacher along with the students took a pledge by reading the preamble to reaffirm their commitment to uphold and protect the ideologies of the Constitution in their respective classes at 11 am.
