India Space Week- Power Point Presentation- Competition

REPORT

To celebrate India's pioneering achievements in space sciences and technology and honor the father of Indian space sciences, Dr. Vikram A. Sarabhai, a PowerPoint presentation competition was organized in the College Seminar Hall on Wednesday, September 18, 2024, from 10:20 AM to 12:00 PM. Twelve students participated in the competition, with 25 attendees from the Pedagogy of Science, Life Science, and Physical Science programs, along with five faculty members, Principal Dr. Sapna Nanda, and Dean Dr. A.K. Srivastava.

The event was organized by Dr. Sanjeev Kumar, the In-charge of the Science Club, and Dr. Sheojee Singh, a member of the Science Club Committee. The Student Executive Committee of the Science Club, known as "Navonmesh," coordinated all aspects of the event.

The program commenced with a welcome address from the secretary of the Science Club (Anuneha Rana), who greeted the Principal, Dean, faculty members, and fellow students. Following the introduction, the topics for the PowerPoint presentations and the competition rules were clearly outlined for the participants and judges. The judges—Dr. Lilu Ram, Dr. Vandana Aggarwal, and Dr. Punam Bansal—were then invited to take their seats.

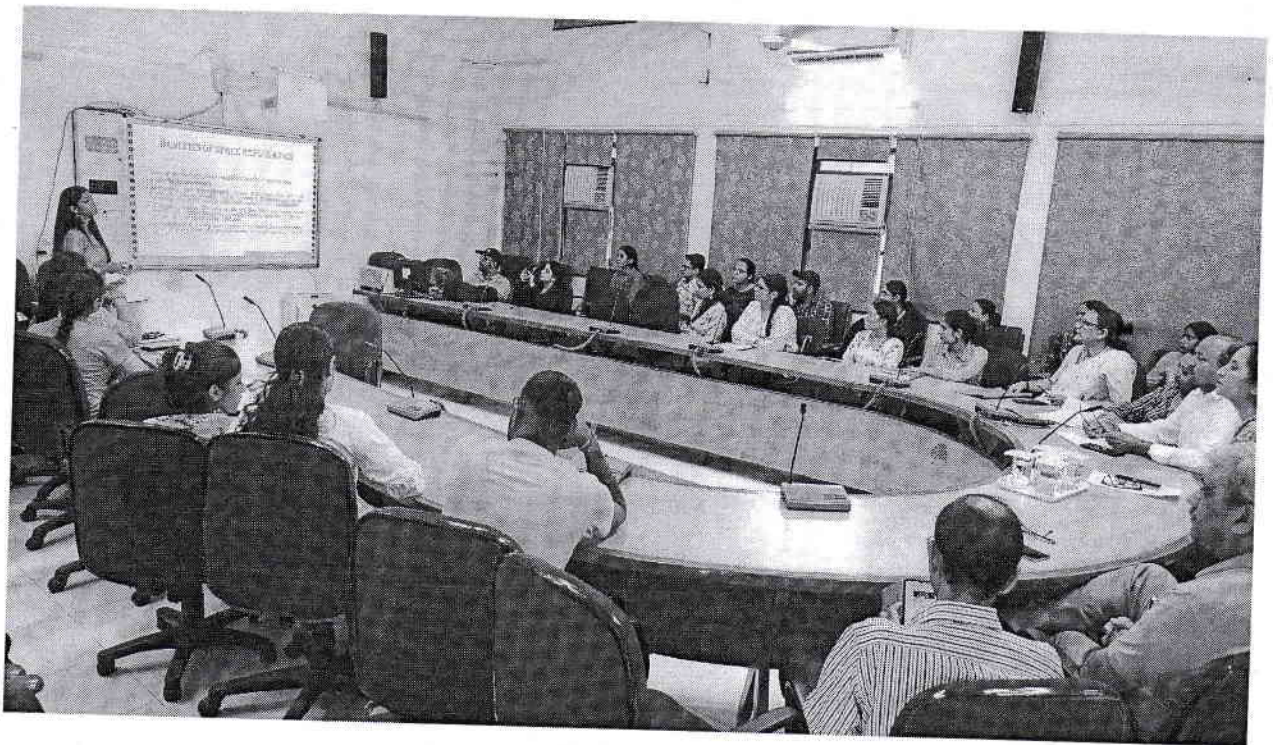

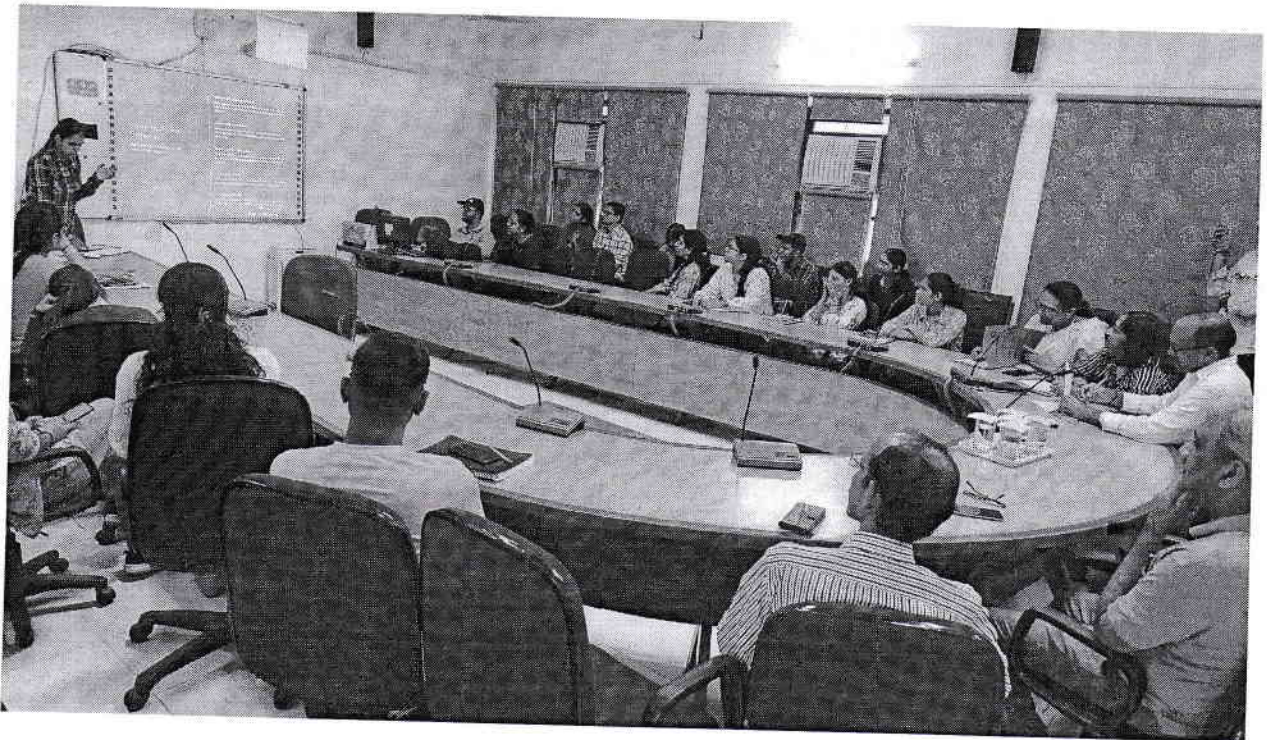

The themes for the presentations included:

1. India's Achievements in Space Sciences
2. Benefits of Space Exploration
3. Life and Work of Dr. Vikram A. Sarabhai / Dr. A. P. J. Abdul Kalam
4. Space Sciences and the Communication Revolution
5. Any other topic related to Space Sciences

The students delivered insightful and engaging presentations. Dr. Lilu Ram announced the winners of the competition. Sanskriti (238) bagged the first prize, Srijan (218) was second and Eknor (203) & Sakshi (275) were combined third. Principal Dr. Sapna Nanda congratulated all participants, and encouraged all the students. The program concluded with a heartfelt vote of thanks from the President of the Science Club (Manmohit Kaur).
